The Emperor (aka Kilrathi Emperor or Emperor of Kilrah) is emperor of all the Kilrathi, originating from the the Kiranka clan.

Contents [\[show\]](#)

Background ✎ Edit

These are the titles held by the leader of the Empire of Kilrah. The title is normally hereditary and the Emperor is the leader of the noble clan in power. Vendettas, challenges and civil wars by another or the same clan, are alternative of hereditary imperial succession.<sup>[1]</sup> Another form of transfer is known as the "Chosen Claw of the Emperor" in which the case the emperor chooses his 'heir' the Crown Prince, and next in line <sup>[2]</sup>. However, the Crown Prince must be vigilant to defend that position.

The Emperor's absolute power or policies may be challenged by another clan, leading to a vendetta and all-out civil war, with the winner sitting on the throne.<sup>[1]</sup> During the known Kilrathi history, each Emperor announces a campaign against an alien enemy with the Terran-Kilrathi War starting from such a campaign<sup>[3]</sup> which also stabilized the clans behind the current ruler.

The son (or chosen hereditary heir) of the Emperor holds the title of the Crown Prince.

CONRAD'S TACKLE

Khasra Redclaw

Khasra Redclaw is a member of the Kilrathi Royal Family. Khasra Redclaw was a cousin of Crown Prince Thrakhath nar Kiranka and a high-ranking commander of the Prince's forces. Khasra was always at odds with his cousin, believing Thrakhath's grandfather, the Kilrathi Emperor, too weak to rule and Thrakhath to incompetent to inherit the throne. His lack of regard for the Crown Prince saw him threatened with death for treason on more than one occasion.

History Edit

Khasra was heavily involved with the attempted recapture of Ghorah Khar during the Enigma Campaign that went on from 2656 to 2667. Ghorah Khar was seized Kilrathi rebels who had become disillusioned with their leadership and sought a chance to join humanity. The Kilrathi, Khasra among them, tried to put down the rebellion in every way imaginable without destroying the planet, only to see it finally fall in 2656. Khasra personally informed Thrakhath of this setback onboard the Hha'ifra and was ordered to destroy the Ghorah Khar shipyards in order to prevent the rebels from gaining the Prince's stealth fighter technology. Khasra opposed this plan as it would slow down their war progress dramatically, but Thrakhath would not accept "no" for an answer.<sup>[1]</sup>
