

I. Overall Picture

A. Left Panel

- i. A dalmatian firefighter using an angle grinder to cut the hinges off a locker (top right hinge) with a wolf stuffed inside. Sparks are flying everywhere.

B. Right Panel

- i. Matt, the wolf, backed up against the locker. The locker is large enough for a 5'9" wolf to fit in with a little room to spare. Enough for Matt to back up, all terrified of being cut out of the locker like a sardine can. Matt's expression is a terrifying one. He's been locked in there for about 45 minutes. He's embarrassed, etc.

II. Characters

A. Magen (firefighter angle grinding)

- i. Dalmatian, firefighter, female. Not that her chest will be showing through the firefighter gear. Human type paws and feet with clawtips. Rather pointless detail for what she'll be dressed in. Included some dalmatian references just to be safe, though it's probably useless with the suit she's gonna be in.

B. Matt Debán

- i. Timberwolf. Ventral white stripe. Wearing: Faded blue jeans, green t-shirt, wedding ring, sneakers. Not that the jeans or sneakers are going to be too visible. Maybe the wedding ring?

C. Other firefighter.

- i. Great dane. Black fur. Male.

III. Angle, Background, & Pose

A. See picture.

IV. Story Scene (bold part)

- A. *“Okay Matt. Just stand back and we'll have you out of there. The blade isn't going to come near you. I'm turning on the saw,” Motter said. She slid the protective mask over her face and approached the locker. She placed the saw on the locking mechanism and began cutting around the square lock. Sparks flew everywhere, harmlessly falling to the floor.

V. Extra Info

A. Locker to use

- i. Sixth from the right.

B. Locker lock

- i. There is none. It's epoxied shut. Toxic epoxy. Sparks = noxious fumes. Not like the detail will be greatly visible, but it made for a more dramatic scene.

That's an angle grinder. the DeWalt is to be removed, not like it'd be visible.

Example of spark patterns

The dalmatian's helmet. Use the color scheme from the pic above.

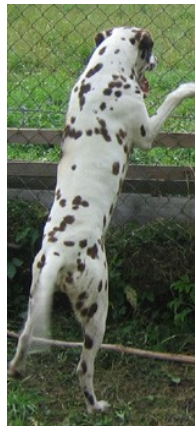

What the dalmatian is wearing. Use the two in the middle. Forget about the wide masks they're wearing in this one.

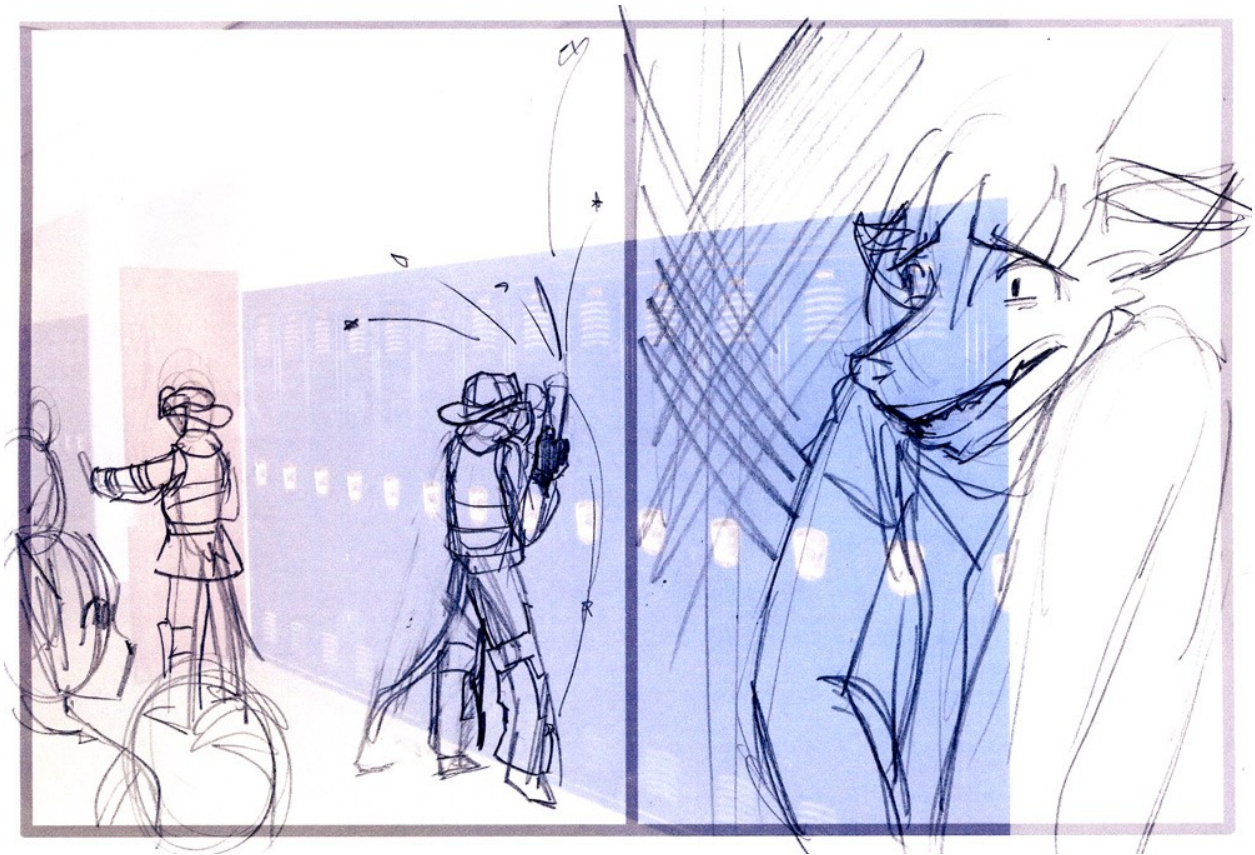

The lovely lady who the dalmatian represents. Use the helmet she's wearing.

Matt Debán

This is exactly how I want the pic. :3 Well, except for the right half. Just imagine the locker background for the right panel isn't there and it's the interior of an empty, spare high school locker. There are also extra furs, like two to three students. All in various stages of being cut off. Make one a female cheetah, one a ferret, and the last if it fits a black wolf.
